NVILLE COMMUNITY KITCHE

An ethical, sustainable, culturally diverse community food hub, offering food-related services, activities, learning and training that is accessible, family-friendly and open to all. With the communities of South Kilburn at its centre, we place the most disaffected at the heart of our work, co-creating a local response to social issues whilst building strength and capacity and lifting voices to advocate for structural change.

We work towards a world in which

Everyone has easy access to nutritious, sustainable, culturally appropriate food.

The GCK values of dignity, equity, justice and care inform every action.

Communities are interconnected and interdependent: working together, growing stronger, producing new possibilities and creating things which we couldn't create alone.

All communities thrive and are resilient from future shocks.

Our work is meaningful, our work-lives are balanced, and we always have time for joy, play, learning and celebration.

In 2022, in response to a rapidly changing society, the GCK team developed a strategic document to guide our work over the following two years.

We have developed our strategy across six key themes:

AREAS WE ARE WORKING ON

2. Good Food Ecologies (GFE)

Granville Community Kitchen is reimagining our food system, co-creating a community of abundance, healing and resilience with eaters, farmers and food producers, chefs and food businesses, community organisations, academics and researchers. We call this vision of the future the Good Food Ecologies (GFE) model. This unique model integrates an urban community kitchen and food co-op with a peri-urban farm, ensuring the people of South Kilburn have access to healthy, culturally appropriate food, education, livelihood opportunities, and connections to the natural world. With over a decade of experience in implementing this regenerative model, GCK has established impactful, food-focused community initiatives.

Over the past 10 years, GCK has been steadily exploring how the Good Food Ecologies model can serve as a guiding principle in building a more just and sustainable food system.

Milestones of 2024

In 2024, GCK received grants from the National Lottery and Esmée Fairbairn Foundation, which provided vital funding to accelerate the launch of our Learning Programme and Granville Community Farm Hub Programme. To ensure these programmes develop steadily, GCK engaged with a range of stakeholders, including local schools and farms, and expanded our core team and partnership network.

Learning Programme

CC

In progressing new learning programmes and activities, it felt important to develop these in dialogue with the local South Kilburn community as to reflect GCK's community-centred approach. We learnt a lot through workshops and conversations as to what people were interested to learn, how sessions might best be structured, and what participants were aiming for in doing different learning activities.

-- Rob, Learning Programme Coordinator The Learning Programme aims to reframe the relationship between people and the land, particularly for younger generations living in urban areas, and to provide accessible, people-centred educational pathways that build skills and confidence for livelihoods in the food system.

HOW WE DEVELOPED IT

In 2024, GCK developed a financial plan for the Learning Programme and outlined the programme schedule in preparation for its official public launch in 2025.

Granville Community Farm Hub Programme

The Granville Community Farm Hub will function as both a productive agroecological farm, producing healthy and culturally diverse food for the community, whilst also being a community space, providing livelihood and learning opportunities and a place for people to connect with nature and each other.

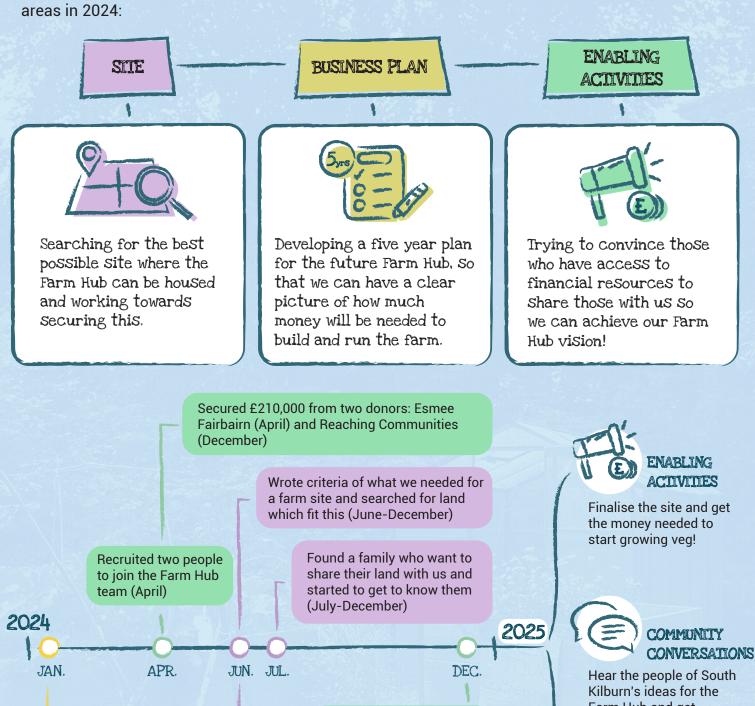

The Farm Hub will be a peri-urban site, on the edge of London, primarily for the South Kilburn and local communities.

HOW WE DEVELOPED IT & PLANS FOR 2025

To make the Granville Community Farm Hub a reality, the Farm Hub team have been focussing on three key areas in 2024:

Formed an external Advisory Group of people who can help us to set up the Farm Hub (December)

Spoke to lots of people, like land owners, organisations and funders to get the word out about the Farm Hub (June-December)

Developing the Farm Hub's Business Plan (across the whole year)

Farm Hub and get people to come and visit.

COVERNANCE

Work out how the Farm Hub will be governed.

4. Comuunity Building

Community building has always been the heart of GCK. We support the community through food related activities enabling the South Kilburn community to access nutritious, affordable and sustainable food. GCK reaches out to marginalised people in the community such as those with long term health conditions, learning disabled adults and those experiencing hunger and food insecurity. It builds food literacy, skills and confidence. This is achieved through cookery classes, volunteering opportunities, and organic food growing. GCK reduces isolation and strengthens community cohesion through regular group activities including community meals, film nights and community events.

Since the loss of access to our community centre—The Granville, GCK has been running activities across multiple temporary sites in South Kilburn. This ongoing displacement reflects both our long-term campaign to reclaim community space and the resilience of our community in the face of these challenges.

Good Food Box

Launched in 2020, the Good Food Box (GFB) is a weekly vegetable subscription scheme that supports the community in accessing culturally appropriate, agroecological, and certified organic food at an affordable price. As GCK's first practical step toward supporting local farmers and building a more localised food system, the scheme aligns closely with the Good Food Ecologies model.

In 2024, the GFB project focused on expanding its reach (families, local groups and schools) and growing organically despite the ongoing challenge of losing secure community space. Throughout the year, the packing operations were relocated three times—January, June, and December, and pick-up points were moved from The Granville to St Luke's Church and the Salvation Army Hall in January.

Packed 1934 Bags over the year

- 337 African & Caribbean bags
- 1,597 North European bags

Peak members at 57 for 3 weeks in May, averaging 51 to 53 throughout the year

Organised 6 workshops with Marylebone School

Attended around 20 events to share the GFB model

6. Growing

In spring 2024, we collaborated with PlayBuildPlay to co-design and build the Granville Rec with South Kilburn residents. Through conversations at community meals and consultations with staff from the Granville Family Wellbeing Centre and the Nursery, the project was co-designed and co-constructed with the local community. Together, we created a functional and playful garden featuring a greenhouse, purpose-specific growing beds, storage space, a shed, and a children's playground. We also welcomed two new gardeners to the team, who have run garden volunteering days twice a week.

7. Holding and shifting Narratives

2024 marks a special milestone for GCK — the 10th anniversary of our journey. Over the past decade, we began with community meals and samba nights, creating spaces for connection through hot meals and social gatherings. We provided food aid during the challenging period of COVID-19 and have continued to grow our team to innovatively practice our vision of Good Food Ecologies.

Throughout these ten years, we have been committed to holding and shifting narratives. documenting and sharing GCK's journey, upholding and redefining community stories in the face of spatial displacement caused by urban renewal, and recasting marginalised voices. Our work remains grounded in celebrating and sustaining the multicultural spirit of the South Kilburn community.
